

PLUG-IN TEST FOR PLATO COURSEWARE

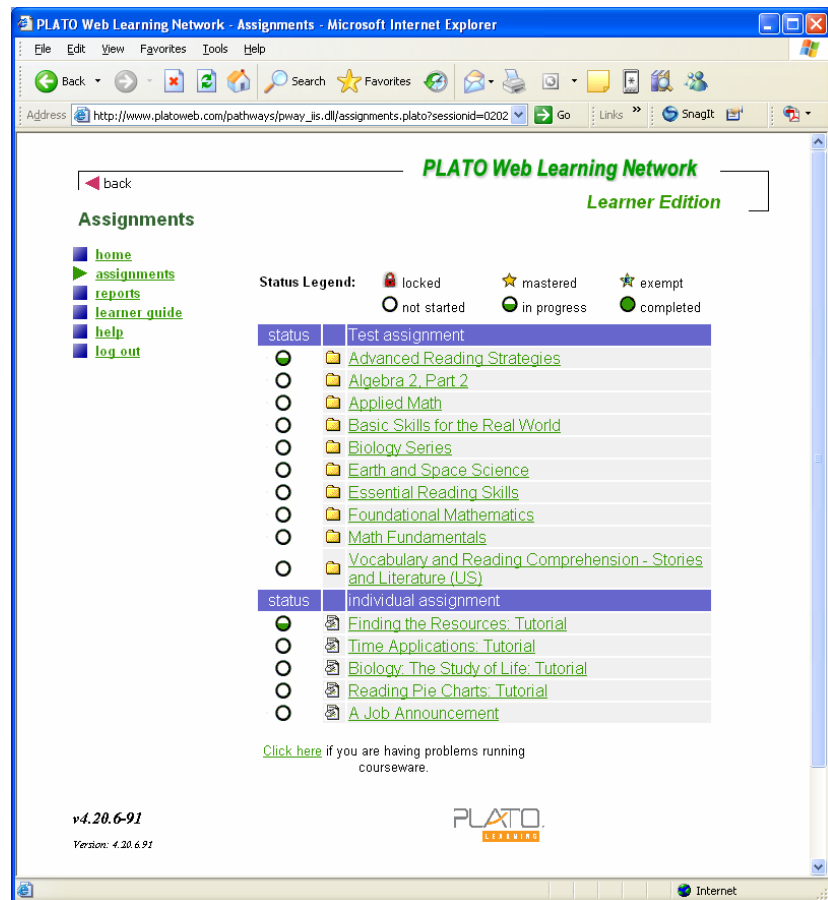

This procedure will allow you to check to make sure that all of the plug-ins necessary to access the PLATO courseware that you have purchased will run on your computers.

1. Make sure your computer is connected to the Internet. Open a browser and type the URL: www.platoweb.com
2. You will be prompted for an account number. Your account number is 50769. Enter your account number and click the Submit button.
3. On the login page, you will be prompted for three pieces of information. Use the following data:

PLATO Name	test
Group Name	test
Password	test

4. Once you enter that information and submit it, you will be prompted to download the plugins. Follow all the prompts, and when you are finished you will be taken to the assignment screen.

5. Your assignment screen will look like this:

6. Click on each of the courseware options in turn. Once the lesson loads, you may exit out. Follow the Click here to return... option to be returned to the courseware menu screen and choose the next lesson.
7. The last piece of courseware is a DOS interface. You must use the key press combination SH-F10 to exit the screen.
8. When you have confirmed that all the courseware pieces will run, choose the log out link at the bottom of the navigation bar on the left. After you have logged out, you may close your Browser.
